Supreme Temple of a New Nation

Indianapolis is becoming famous as the point of origin of fraternal, beneficial and benevolent societies. The success of the Eastern Star and Daughters of Rebekah and women's branches of the Masons and Odd Fellows inspired a desire among the wives of J. Hill, a prominent member of the of F. residing at Greenacres, and form of organization, together with a commentary and supplementary articles as a necessary to well regulated religious and to establish the Society of Pythian Sisters.

The execution of the plan was immediate, and now there are a number of members who collected, in twelve States, with an aggregate membership of near 1,000. When the property of the Society is considered, the central and superior body for the better conducting of the work was seen to be absolutely necessary. The first meeting at that time delegates from Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Tennessee, Missouri, Massachusetts, and New York were present, and on this this morning for the purpose of establishing a Supreme Temple. Mrs. Ida Weaver, of New York, was elected president, and Mrs. Wood, Kansas City, Supreme Vice Officer, Mrs. Little, of Charlestown, Mass., Supreme

TWO REGIMENTAL REUNIONS.

Over eight hundred members of the 6888 Central Postal Directory arrived in Andersonville yesterday afternoon and this morning held a reunion at England's Hotel. The regiment saw hard service in Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama. One hundred and fourteen of the members died in Andersonville, being captured in an attempt to break through the German lines. The 6888 Cavalry participated in tholing and unloading supplies from the rail cars. The late Col. Charles A. Young, who was killed in action after John Morgan, well remembered by the veterans here, was shot down, was present in person.

The group elected for the coming year as follows:

John J. Heller, Indianapolis, President; W. L. ...

The meetings to-day were for business and social purposes. A number of relatives in person were present. Captain Riley, of Greenfield, made a short talk, and it was decided to hold the next annual reunion of the Eleventh Indiana at the home of Captain Riley, Greenfield, during the 18th inst. The committee will desire to attend are requested to so inform the committee at the Journal office as soon as convenient.

YOUNG FEMALE TRAMP.

Wearry, Foot-sore, Sick, Shoeless, Was Has Walked all Over the Union.

Arizona Gardner, a young woman twenty years of age and not had looking, was arrested yesterday as a vagrant. She said that she had traveled to every part of the Union in bare feet, and that she was a tramp, and was a very veritable female tramp. As the woman was young, she was not punished for vagrancy, but was sent to the workhouse.
